

City of Newport Beach – Chief Building Inspector

Salary: $7,664 - $9,316/month, plus excellent benefits (Including PERS 2.5%@55)

The City of Newport Beach, one of Southern California's most scenic and dynamic beach communities, has a full-time opening for Chief Building Inspector in the Building Department.

The Chief Building Inspector will manage, direct and coordinate the activities of the Building Inspection Division; coordinate building inspection activities with other divisions and departments; and provide highly complex staff assistance to the Building Director. This position requires strong interpersonal skills with the ability to successfully supervise staff, work with other City Departments, and interact with the public.

This position requires six years of full-time experience, with at least three years in a supervisory capacity, and a Bachelor's degree in architecture, engineering, construction management or related field is desirable. Up to four years of relevant full-time experience beyond the minimum six years required may be considered in lieu of the Bachelor's degree. Possession of ICC certification as a Combination Inspector and a valid CDL is also required. Certified Building Official and/or Plans Examiner certification is highly desirable.
